

Rumours and Facts

The weekly news update for the week of 22.3.2110-29.3.2110

The Caravan of the White Russian Has Been Sighted

Sesua the Spider Woman returns from one of her trips
Last week, I met some outriders of the caravan of the White Russian. They were camping about a day from Fran where their caravan currently trades with some Keepers who live underground. I assume that they will come here next week and I heard that they have some very potent drugs from the laboratories of the Chernobyl keepers...

Member of the Company of the Stone Assassinated

Karl the meat trader storms into the Tavern of the Little Brother

Janosh Belen is dead! I don't know how it happened but people speak of murder. Of course the Company is in uproar!

He was such a nice guy. Who would want to do such a thing? Of course, the Valkyries are rather slow to act, after all Belen was a Lokite. Rumour has it that the Company appealed to Loki but was turned away. Damn, is there no justice in this city?

The Sky Tower is Active

Fried talks about his last mission into enemy territory
We had a tough job this time... lost two men... were torn apart by a fucking Serf mounted on a gargoyle, before we could put some steel into it. I think it was one of Steiner's scouts... somebody should do something about that guy. Anyway, seems like the Sky Tower is very active recently... saw some strange lights at night... damn Melanis sorcerers creating some new horror to throw at us. We should ally with some Keepers and blow that blasphemy away.

Children Missing in Coaltown

Gudrun, a healer chats with a customer

Have you heard that terrible story about the kids missing in Coaltown? Almost babies still. My, oh my! Who would do such a thing, I wonder? I don't think it's the gangs.

Maybe it is a Z'Bri which has gotten through the Curtain. There have been a couple of strange killings lately and the Valkyries do nothing, sitting in their safe citadel while we suffer from the attacks of demonic skirmishers...

Personality Profile:

Unidentified Seed Worshipper

Bulut the Merchant talks about the Valkyries

Have you heard about the attack on Hilda the up and coming Brunite priestess? They say she was fried in the open street on a sunny day by lightning. And they say that some old bearded guy, a Seed worshipper, used Sundering to call the lightning. Nobody knows where he comes from but with that appearance, he should not be hard to find. I wonder why they have not put up wanted posters yet.
